

YEGGMEN STEAL R. R. VELOCIPEDE

"Speeder" Taken From Laona Man Is Captured By Superior Police

Monday's Superior Telegram contained the following story which will prove of interest to residents of this locality:

"Lee LaBelle of Laona, Forest county, Wis. a small place east of Rhinelander, is the owner of a velocipede captured on the Northern Pacific railroad tracks near the Grassy Point bridge at the time when local police officers engaged in a gun fight with two unknown men who were hiding in the brush near Billings Park several weeks ago.

"Word to this effect was received by Chief Vincent McKinnon this morning from Mr. LaBelle. The local chief traced ownership by means of a number on the 'speeder' through the factory. The factory informed the Superior police officer that Mr. LaBelle had purchased the velocipede and McKinnon immediately got in touch with him. The 'speeder' will be shipped to the owner.

"The strangers who were discovered in the woods near Billings Park and who made their escape following a gun fight with the officers are believed to be robbers who cracked safes at Gillette and Mountain, two small places near Laona. The safeblowers stole Mr. LaBelle's velocipede and it is presumed that they came all the way to Superior on the railroad tracks."

CO. I MAY RETURN ABOUT SEPT. 1

Thomas Lawrence received a letter Monday from his brother Frank Lawrence, who is a member of Co. I now in San Antonio, in which the writer states the feeling prevails among the men of the company that they will return to Rhinelander in September. Frank's letter is as follows:

Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas, July 25, 1916.

Dear Brother Thomas:—Received your letter and will answer right away. Took a short hike this morning, and to look at us when we got back, you'd think we fell in the drink. Our clothes were sopping wet. It's funny, we don't notice the heat much, but just the same we sweat like butchers.

There is a lot of excitement going on here now. There is a whole regiment of negroes here from Illinois. Yesterday they got paid and started raising Cain up town. Guards from the regulars had to shoot four of them before they quieted down. The Greasers here sure do hate us. One short fellow followed Isadore Rheume and I last night for a couple of blocks. We turned around called him down, and he beat a hasty retreat. They are awful cowards when facing you. I keep away from their little cities around here.

Some of the rookies pull some awful boneheads here. Carl Tucker was on guard the other night, and the officer of the day came around. Tucker halted him and the officer told him who he was. Tucker answered and said, "If you are the officer of the day come a-b— are you doing around here at night." He got an awful "bawling" out.

I don't know, but everybody expects to be home in September. They say that Colonel Lee wanted to bet Co. I, one thousand dollars that we would be home by September 1. I hope so; I would like to be home for the opening of the alleys. Getting kind of lonesome for the place. I guess.

Well, I must close and clean my gun for inspection tonight at retreat.

Your brother, Frank.

ON LONG HIKE

When the Wisconsin brigade starts on its long hike from San Antonio to Leon Springs, now scheduled for Monday, each man will carry full service equipment weighing sixty pounds, writes Harry G. Croy in the Milwaukee Free Press. The Illinois troops were too "soft" but the Wisconsin men are considered to be in better condition and sufficiently hardened, so Brig. Gen. L. T. Richardson has decided to have them make the march under service condition.

SMOKE HERE FROM CANADIAN FIRES

The hazy condition of the atmosphere here the last two days is due it is believed, to the terrific forest fires in the province of Ontario, Can. Winds carry the smoke for hundreds of miles.

It is believed more than 500 were lost in the fire which swept hundreds of square miles in northern Ontario. Whole settlements were wiped out. Relief workers sent back reports of 8 survivors in a village of 208, of 57 bodies found in a single railway cut, 16 found in a pit, 24 found in one house and of 130 bodies buried in the course of a single morning. For every body along the railway a dozen may be lying dead under the ashes of northern Ontario, was the word sent back by the rescuers. Identification was impossible as the flames ate up every identifying mark. Refugees who escaped have been unable to tell how their neighbors fared. The survivors found were pitifully few. The first train bringing survivors carried 43 of whom 3 men and 17 women were horribly burned.

STEVENS DONATES CHICKEN TO CO. I.

Camp Wilson, San Antonio, Tex. July 31.—Capt. F. H. Himes has received the check for $700, raised by the Rhinelander Elks at the Fourth of July celebration and it has been added to the company fund. The boys also enjoyed a fine chicken dinner, donated by State Senator Stevens.

The company mascot is owned by Sergt. Charles Blitch. She is a dog, about knee high to a duck, and weighing three or four pounds. At one of the stations on the way down someone pushed the dog through the window and she fell into the sergeant's lap. Her name is Baby L.

George Pratt can make a snake do everything but talk. He is even thinking of trying to train a tarantula. Pratt is going to help along the coming vaudeville show with a snake charming act.

Private Herman Newcomb, single handed, captured two drunken negroes from an Illinois regiment. The negroes strayed into the Wisconsin camp. Newcomb grabbed both and put them in the guard-house.

Private Chet Jewell is pitcher for 1's baseball team, and expects to win the brigade pennant.

INJURIES FATAL

A. E. Hall, for a number of years a resident of Rhinelander, died Saturday night in St. Mary's hospital where he had been a patient for ten days. Death, it is said, was due to an injury which he sustained while at work in a mill yard about three weeks ago.

Mr. Hall was a native of Maine and was born September 5, 1853. He came to Wisconsin at an early age and had since resided in this state. For several years past he was employed at various kinds of labor and was until recently bus driver for the Rapids House. He is survived by a wife, one daughter and one son, of this city.

The funeral was held from the residence on the west side Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Messenger of the M. E. church officiating.

LEADING FARMER DIES SUDDENLY

Charles Hagan, one of the old and prominent farmers of the town of Crescent, expired suddenly early Sunday morning while sitting in a chair at the Edwin auto livery, S. Brown street. Death was probably due to heart trouble combined with the intense heat. Mr. Hagan had called at the livery to engage an automobile to convey him to his home in Crescent and it was while waiting for the car that he was stricken.

Mr. Hagan was sixty-six years of age and was born in Ohio. For the last quarter of a century he had made this county his residence. As a farmer he was successful and maintained a fine farm in Crescent. He was a good citizen and his death is mourned by a host of friends.

He is survived by a wife and eight children.

The funeral was held Tuesday morning from St. Mary's church.

Phillip Moreault is home from Turtle Lake.

Y. M. C. A. FOR RHINELANDER; WILL USE BAPTIST CHURCH

The citizens of Rhinelander have believed for many years that our city needed a Y. M. C. A. Upon investigation it was found that the cost of building an institution designed on the plan of other Y. M. C. A.'s in cities the size of Rhinelander would cost over forty thousand dollars. The maintenance each year including the salary of twelve hundred dollars for a regular secretary would mean an additional sum of over two thousand dollars annually. The business men of our city who would necessarily be the largest contributors, while interested in helping every good work for the benefit of the citizens felt that such a large sum could not be raised at this time but that a Y. M. C. A. on a smaller scale for a few years would help to pave the way for a larger institution in the future.

Rhinelander is now to have the free lease of a suitable building for a Y. M. C. A. and the services of a secretary who will give his services as his part of a contribution for a Y. M. C. A. At a business meeting of the First Baptist Church of Rhinelander it was voted Monday night to lease free to the city of Rhinelander their church for the purpose of a Y. M. C. A., that is to be equipped with a swimming pool, gymnasium, shower baths, locker rooms, and a social club room. A board of directors composed of the representative business men of Rhinelander to have full control of Y. M. C. A. to be run according to the rules and regulations of state Y. M. C. A. organization. Rev. Wedge who has had experience as an assistant in Y. M. C. A., and who is a former Rhinelander boy, acquainted with local conditions, will offer his services for five years without a salary and save Rhinelander ten thousand dollars to help the good work.

The architect who designed Rhinelander's new hotel has drawn the plans for a Y. M. C. A. and estimates the cost at three thousand dollars. The swimming pool, gymnasium, shower baths, locker rooms and club rooms can be put in for that amount. Already several hundred dollars has been promised and as soon as the directors have been appointed and our citizens know the men who are to have charge of the work, this fund will be raised through the local papers by public subscription. Its a chance for the city of Rhinelander to save over fifty thousand dollars and yet do in a way the same good till a larger institution can be maintained.

BUSINESS MEN ORGANIZE COMMERCIAL DIVISION HERE

With a membership of sixty-five business men the Commercial Division of the Rhinelander Advancement Association was organized at the City Hall Wednesday night. To Mr. A. Jacobsen, national and state organizer of the National Association of Retail Grocers and the Wisconsin Retail Grocers and General Merchants' Association, is due the credit for the perfection of this organization. For the last three weeks he has worked tirelessly in promoting the undertaking and the success which has attended his efforts is gratifying. While the association is embarked with a roster of sixty-five members, fifteen more have assured Mr. Jacobsen of their willingness to join.

T. C. Wood was elected chairman of the division and directors are T. C. Wood, M. H. Raymond, John Ross, S. B. Gary, O. A. Kolden, E. H. Rogers, A. Carlson, E. H. Markham, M. W. Sorenson, A. Schauder, L. C. Kirk, Bert Brown, A. McArthur, C. Roepcke, C. A. Richards, R. G. Lowell, S. D. Sulliff, L. Emmerling, D. R. Hanford, W. E. Vaughan, T. J. Mattinson.

The object of the association is to maintain an organization to correct the evils of the present credit system; to abate trade abuses and injurious practices; to harmonize trade relations between retailers, wholesalers and manufacturers; and to cooperate in making Rhinelander a better and more progressive trade center.

Thirty-four cities in this state have already organized and all are receiving benefits for the money and labor thus expended.

LADIES SAVE DOE

Arthur Taylor and his guests, Mr. and Mrs. John Willam and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Yundt of Milwaukee could easily have captured a deer in the Wisconsin river, near the Taylor cottage, Sunday, but harking to the pleadings of the ladies the gentlemen allowed the quarry to escape. The animal, a beautiful doe, had been chased into the water by dogs and when in the middle of the stream apparently became bewildered, not knowing in which direction to swim. The Taylor party, in a launch circled around the deer several times and could have taken it captive with out difficulty.

Mr. Taylor said that the experience, however, was both unique and exciting, especially so to the Milwaukeeans who had never before seen a wild deer in the water.

NEW ADDITION

Work on the building of the new addition on the rear of the Weisman store is now underway. When completed this addition will allow the Weisman store considerable more floor space, which will permit larger stocks and better displays of merchandise.

LA PORTE DOING GOOD WORK
Rev. Peter LaPorte, organizer for the American Sunday School Union, is taking his annual vacation from his duties and is devoting his time to berry picking. According to Rev. LaPorte this has been the most successful year of his twelve years of missionary work. He has organized five new Sunday schools in Vilas county and these are now connected with the Congregational church of Eagle River. In one community in Langlade county he recently held the first religious service conducted there in eighteen years. Every one in the district was present.

DAIRYING IN ONEIDA COUNTY

It is good to note the gradual development of dairying in this county. Last week two pure bred Guernsey sires were placed at the head of herds and the week before a pure bred Guernsey cow with an official record of 474 lbs. butter fat in one year was brought into the county to be the foundation stock for a future pure bred herd. The scrub and grade sires are gradually being replaced by pure breeds with good pedigrees behind them. Farmers are fast realizing that it takes but little more feed to keep a good cow than a poor one and the returns from the good cow are many times as great. We do not advocate pure bred cows for every farmer of the county, but we do think they should use a pure bred sire. Then as soon as he gets a good grade herd established and can care for it properly, it is time to get one or two good pure bred cows or heifers and start a pure bred herd. After having farmed this way for ten, fifteen, or twenty years a man will have a herd worth several times as much as a scrub herd and at the same time will have had bigger returns for all the work done. It has been proven so often that the dairy cow is the real paying proposition in Oneida county farming. And as fast as possible we should stock up our farms with all the good cows they will support and then aim to have a little better herd each year.

BIG ATTRACTIONS FOR ONEIDA FAIR

Great United Shows Will Supply Midway—High Class Free Acts

The Oneida County Agricultural society has signed a contract with E. C. Rockwell general agent for the Great United Shows, to furnish attractions for the midway of the Oneida County Agricultural Society's big fair in this city, September 5, 6, and 7.

"One of the cleanest and biggest carnival companies on the road", is the general verdict of all who have seen the Great United Shows. These shows as a rule make the larger fairs and Oneida county is fortunate in securing attractions of this high class for its fair. Twenty up-to-the-minute spectacular attractions, a fine merry-go-round, a Ferris wheel and about twenty small concessions comprise the Great United Shows. A special train of fifteen double length cars transport the caravan from city to city. Aside from the carnival there will be several highly entertaining outside free attractions engaged by the Agricultural Society at a large expense. One of these is Lionel Legare, the celebrated equilibrist, in his thrilling spiral tower acts. The Savages, famous acrobats, and Ray Burton, dare-devil high wire artist.

Securing these shows as the feature attraction for the Oneida county fair is a boost for Rhinelander. All the residents of the county should make a memorandum of the dates of the fair, namely September 5, 6 and 7. Make a special effort to attend the fair this year.

LEADBETTER IS IN REGULAR SERVICE

Is Sworn In As Traveling Recruiting Officer In Camp Douglas Friday

Lieut. L. A. Leadbetter of this city was in Camp Douglas Friday where he was sworn into the regular service as recruiting officer.

Lieut. Leadbetter will be on the road most of the time, his territory including the Wisconsin Valley as far south as Stevens Point, although he has the privilege of going anywhere he has the opportunity to secure enlistments. Six regular recruiting officers have been assigned to work in Wisconsin.

The object of this enlistment campaign is to build up the Wisconsin brigade now in San Antonio to full war strength. To do this will require about 1700 men. In order to maintain the present high standard of the Badger troops it is necessary that recruiting be vigorously pushed. Recruits will go to Camp Douglas for a short stay and from there will be sent to San Antonio.

Lieut. Leadbetter has obtained a leave of absence for one year from his position at the Merchants State Bank in this city.

City To Aid Families
At the regular August meeting of the city council it was voted that the city set aside the sum of one hundred dollars per month for the benefit of the wives and families of Company L members now in San Antonio. Many other cities in Wisconsin have adopted similar methods in caring for soldiers' families.

-W. C. T. U. MEETING
The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. will be held Wednesday Aug. 9, at 3 o'clock at the library club rooms. Members are urged to attend because of election of officers.

SENATOR NORRIS WILL SPEAK HERE

Nebraska Statesman Will Stump Country In Interests of La Follette

A battery of progressive speakers including several United States Senators, are coming into Wisconsin about the middle of August to stump the state for Senator Robert M. LaFollette who is a candidate for re-election. This announcement was made by Charles H. Crownhart, chairman of the LaFollette campaign committee today. Among the men who have announced their intention of coming to the state to spend ten days or two weeks stumping for Senator LaFollette are: Senator George W. Norris, Nebraska; Senator W. H. Kenyon, Iowa; Senator H. A. Grønne, North Dakota; Senator Moses E. Clapp, Minnesota; Senator William E. Borah, Idaho; Senator John D. Works, California; Ex-Senator Joseph L. Bristow, Kansas; former congressman James Manahan of Minneapolis; and Andrew Fureseth of Washington D. C.

These men will all travel with automobiles speaking at crossroads and little towns in the day time and winding up at larger towns in the evening.

According to the present itineraries, Senator Works will probably speak in the counties of Winnebago, Fond du Lac, Calumet, Outagamie and Marathon; Senator Bristow will probably speak in Green, Rock, Walworth, Kenosha, Racine and Waukesha counties; Senator Norris in Clark, Rusk, Taylor, Price, Oneida, Ashland and Bayfield; Senator Kenyon in Wood, Waushara, Green Lake, Adams and Columbia; Congressman Manahan in Eau Claire, Chippewa, Polk, Burnett, Washburn and Barron; Senator Clapp in St. Croix, Colk, Pierce, Buffalo, La Crosse and Monroe; and Senator Grønna in Trempealeau, Vernon, Richland, Dane and LaFayette counties.

Andrew Fureseth has asked that he be scheduled in laboring sections, especially along the lake shore because he desires the opportunity of explaining the merits of the Seaman's Bill fathered by Senator LaFollette. Congressman Manahan has asked an opportunity to speak in the agricultural section. His long connection with the Equity Exchange of Minneapolis, with the late George Loftis makes him especially desirable as a speaker in these communities. The schedule for Senator LaFollette has not yet been announced.

FEW IDLE YOUNG MEN
A Rhinelander business man remarked Tuesday that there are fewer idle young men in this city this summer than he has ever noticed at any time during his long residence here. This is due to the fact that there is plenty of work for all who desire to work, there being not enough men to supply the demand. Wages are good.

LEACH IN FAUCET
Who says the city water is pure? A leach about two inches in length was removed from the faucet in the residence of Archie McCaughan Monday. Probably some people relish getting water and meat from the same faucet, but it is doubtful if it appeals to the average man's stomach. One may expect anything in the menagerie line from the faucets these days.

COMPLETE HOTEL BASEMENT
Work on the construction of the basement of the new Hotel Oneida has been completed and the first floor is now being built. From now on operations on the structure will be pushed as rapidly as possible.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to thank the friends and neighbors for the kindness shown to us at the death of our beloved husband and father.
Mrs. Charles Hagen and Children.

WILL PLAY MINOCQUA
At Minocqua Sunday the Rhinelander city base ball team will play the Minocqua team. Judge H. T. Ames arranged for the game while in this city Tuesday.

TEACHERS' EXAMINATION
To the Teachers of Oneida County: A teachers' examination will be held at the Training school in the city of Rhinelander beginning August 21st, Aug. 21st and 22nd will be devoted to third grade branches and Aug. 23rd and 24th to second and first grade branches. The full program will be published in next week's issue of this paper.

LITTLE CHATS ABOUT POULTRY

(By G. E. Conkey)

Molting time is close at hand, in fact many birds are already dropping their feathers, so that right now is the logical time to decide what is to be done with your old stock.

If you don't intend to carry the hens over another year, turn them off now while they are in good condition. They have done the bulk of their summer laying and you will get but few eggs from them while they are growing their new coat of feathers. Don't take chances by keeping them any longer because once they start to molt, their condition will be against them and they will not bring top prices. It surely will not pay you either, to carry them through three or more months of illness to dispose of them in the early winter.

If you are going to sell only some of the old birds, keep the younger ones and use your best judgment in culling out the undesirable. First of all weed out the cripples or weaker individuals and those that are known to be poor layers. Dispose of any that have shown a tendency to take on fat while feeding a well balanced ration for they are hard to handle and may cause trouble next year. It is also a good plan to get rid of any persistent setters that have wasted most of their time during the warm weather. In short, cull right down to the real money-makers of the flock, and don't keep more birds than you can house comfortably through the winter. A few birds, well cared for, will make you more money than a greater number that must be poorly housed or neglected.

Molting is a very trying ordeal on the fowls and everything should be done for them at this time to lessen the weakening effect caused by raising a new crop of feathers. Far too often there is a lack of interest in the flock during the molting period, perhaps because this care means expense to the owner. Yet this is just the time when the birds need your best care, and anything you spend on your birds to help them over the molt will pay you back big dividends. Keep your birds systems toned up and they will need less time to grow the new feathers. Take care of them properly and when the feathers are grown there will be no time wasted getting the birds into laying condition. They'll be ready for fall and winter laying, and you know its winter eggs that bring you big profits.

It takes about three months for the molt but if you don't have your hens properly molted in winter, they will not resume laying until winter is well under way, and some not before spring.

Try to give your molting hens much the same care and feeding as you do when they are laying, with perhaps just a slight reduction in the amount of feed, and the addition of sunflower seed, oil meal, or something of this nature to the ration. Keep the birds active, as at other times, and feed in a litter where possible. Make sure, also, that animal food and green stuff is given regularly, for these are essential.

Forced molting is practiced to some extent but Experimental Station reports have so far failed to show that there is any particular advantage in letting the poultry keeper control the time of molting. It is true the whole flock can be made to molt at the same time and earlier than would otherwise be the case, but by this their laying is entirely checked, where if the feathers are gradually replaced, a number of eggs will be produced during the first few weeks.

To force the molt the fowls are fed lightly for about two weeks. Somewhat less than half the usual ration is given and then the regular feeding is resumed using a good feed of mash once a day. This causes the feathers to loosen and starts the new coat and the molt is soon under way.

Where trouble is experienced in getting birds to molt early this plan might be given a trial.

NEW POSTAL CARD RULE

A recent ruling of the Postal Department gives warning that all Postal Cards upon which are pasted pennants or other cloth materials cannot go for one cent when a message is written on the card.

It has been ruled that such cards are merchandise and while they are available for one cent when only a greeting is appended such as "Congratulations," no message conveying any intelligence such as: "Will be home tomorrow," etc., will be passed at that rate, two cents being required. Postmaster Stapleton suggests that such cards be enclosed in envelopes.

All cards upon which tinsel, or other poisonous matter is used according to ruling, whether containing message or not, must be enclosed in envelope and sealed, requiring two cents postage.

Keeping Up With Canada

Unless one has read the very latest edition of the most up-to-date newspaper, it is not safe to attempt to make an authoritative statement concerning the prohibition situation in Canada. With such rapidity is the prohibition wave sweeping away the saloons, breweries and distilleries. It is not at all improbable that before the end of the year every province except Quebec will be under a prohibition law. We have noted from week to week each new accession of prohibition territory, but in view of the fact that misleading statements concerning the progress in Canada are frequently seen, it may not be amiss to review briefly the somewhat spectacular outlawing of John Barleycorn by our neighbors on the north.

At the beginning of the war, Prince Edward Island was the only province under prohibition law. Alberta, in July, 1915, by a popular vote disposed of the places for selling and manufacturing liquor. The drink business in Saskatchewan has been taken over by the government and the sale is strictly limited to a few dispensaries which may be closed by vote of the electors on the local option plan. Within a short time there will be a provincial vote in Saskatchewan on the question. In March of this year Manitoba by a majority of over two to one voted out all saloons, breweries and distilleries, and now the government of Ontario has decided to put into effect on September, 16, 1916, a prohibition measure to continue until June, 1919, when it is to be ratified or repealed by a popular vote. In Nova Scotia there has been for some time a prohibition law covering the whole province with the exception of the city of Halifax, and a bill has recently passed the Nova Scotia legislature referring to the electors of Halifax a measure which will bring the city under the provisions of that law. The provincial governments of British Columbia and New Brunswick have promised to submit the question to a vote of the electors in the near future, when, prophesies The Pioneer of Toronto, "it is fairly certain that the electors will follow the example of those of other provinces." The province of Quebec alone has not taken any advance step during the past few months, but in less than 200 of its 1,158 municipalities are liquor licenses granted.

While the change of sentiment on the liquor question in Canada is attributed generally to the European war, and the new liquor laws are commonly referred to as "war measures," there is no doubt that popular sentiment is responsible for this commendable legislation. Only four years ago, when an effort was made in Ontario to put through a prohibition measure, it was treated with derision, whereas now the government itself has sponsored the measure and there is practically no opposition to it except from the liquor trade. "The government had to choose between the people or the liquor interests, and when the alternative could not be avoided, chose the people," is the interpretation given by the Toronto Globe, which draws therefrom the conclusion, "The bill is an assurance that when a preponderant majority want a reform and are in a temper to back up their demands with their votes it will be granted, however strong the private opposing interest."

CURE FOR CHOLERA MORBUS

"When our little boy, now seven years old, was a baby he was cured of cholera morbus by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," writes Mrs. Sidney Simmons, Fair Haven, N. Y. "Since then other members of my family have used this valuable medicine for colic and bowel troubles with good satisfaction and I gladly endorse it as a remedy of exceptional merit." Obtainable everywhere.

HUNTING COST HIGHER

Hunting will be a more expensive sport than ever this fall. Increased cost in the manufacture of guns and shells is the cause. Local dealers have received notice of twenty per cent increase in the cost of these two important items in the list of hunters' requirements and have arranged their prices accordingly.

Smokeless powder shells, "Lead-ers" now sold at ninety-five cents per box. Even the common "black" powder shells are selling at prices above the former quotations, bringing in the neighborhood of sixty-five and seventy cents.

Guns have also been advanced. A shot gun formerly selling for $21 is now marked $23, this increase being taken as an example of the general raise. All the standard makes of shells and guns are included in the new schedule.

GEORGE IS SOME FARMER

George Werner made somewhat of an enviable reputation last year by his cabbage crop on the twenty acre tract at the edge of the 4th ward. This year he had a quarter acre of strawberries that netted $130. Also he has some promising looking sugar beets and other crops. As a side line for traveling salesman Mr. Werner has an agricultural annex that discounts and puts him at the front rank of his fellow commercial travelers.—New London Press.

SOLDIERS CANNOT VOTE

Attorney General Owen has given Governor Philipp the opinion that the soldiers cannot vote out of the state under the Absent Voters' law, or any other statute existing.

It is now said to be doubtful, however, if the special legislative session will be called. It is said to be the impression at the executive office that the troops will be home by November, and it is hardly considered justifiable to call a special session merely to enable the men to vote at the primaries.

THE question sometimes is asked, "Why don't you perfume Ivory Soap for bath and toilet purposes?"

Our reply is this: "We think that the delightful, natural odor of the high grade materials we use should not be concealed by a stronger, artificial perfume. We think Ivory's natural odor is more pleasing than any perfume. It is a fragrance that suggests purity and cleanliness, a fragrance that people like from the beginning and never tire of."

NEWS NOTES FROM NEARBY CITIES

Crandon— Lightning struck the Presbyterian church of this city and in the fire which resulted the edifice was completely destroyed. The church was erected 29 years ago and was insured for $3,200 with a mortgage of $1,200.—Lories Scott, aged 20 and son of Mr. and Mrs. John Scott of Nashville, was drowned while bathing in Lake Metonga. He was seized with a cramp.

Ladysmith— Representative business men have inaugurated a campaign to build a $50,000 hospital in this city. The plan is to conduct a campaign for a sum of $50,000 to erect and equip the hospital, which will be known as St. Mary's hospital and be conducted by the Mantell Sisters O. S. M. of this city. There will be a non-sectarian advisory board, selected by the business men of the city, who will consider with the Sisters all questions of financial policy. The detailed management of the hospital will be reposed in the Sisters in conference with the medical staff, which will include all reputable physicians of the city and countryside who desire to be affiliated with the institution. An experienced, trained nurse will be installed as superintendent.

Hayward— What might have developed into a serious outbreak by the Chippewa Indians of the Lac Court Oreilles reservation in this county east of here was promptly quelled by state conservation wardens who last week arrested Alex Denashi, a prominent member of the band, on a charge of having venison in his possession in the closed season. Denashi was taken to Winter and arraigned before Justice of the Peace Smith, who imposed a fine of $25 and costs. The defendant paid the fine without putting up a fight in court. It is believed that Denashi's admission and payment of his fine indicates that the threat of the Court Oreilles Chippewas to "hunt wherever and whenever they like" will be carried no further.

Washburn— It is rumored that Washburn is to have a new Omaha passenger depot. Just how much there is to the activities of the Omaha company along this line cannot be learned. During the past several years an urgent demand has been made on the Omaha people by local people that a new depot be erected. During the past spring the company officers were here and met with the citizens at the Commercial Club when the matter was talked over and the Omaha people at that time offered to remodel the present depot but this did not seem to meet with the approval of the local people and the matter was let drop so far as the Omaha people were concerned.

New London— Arthur Mentzel has a valuable pearl that he found while clam shell fishing last week. He also had another (not quite as large) that he had set in a ring. He has been fishing near Weyauwega and had a small bottle full of little pearls as the result of his work. One of the clam shell fishers states that the shells are as plentiful up river here as they are below. Also that the clam shell fisher can work in winter as well as in summer if the water is not too deep. A different outfit has to be used for fishing through the ice, however. Another clam load of shells was shipped to Iowa last week and the consignee stated that if the shells were satisfactory they would locate a button factory in this vicinity.

Following were the bids for general construction: The Michie Construction Co. of Milwaukee, $52,580; Tomlinson & Egan of Ashland, $53,803; Carl Thomsen of Park Falls, $54,232; The fourth bid was too high to be considered.

Antigo— Three thrifty triplet calves about a week old are a sight worth seeing. The calves were born on the farm of W. H. Green just northeast of the city limits. The mother of the triplets is a native cow with some Jersey blood. The sire is a registered Holstein. Two of the calves are females. The male and one female are almost entirely black. The other female is red and white. All three calves have been lusty and vigorous from the start. The mother provides amply for the lot. Mr. Green reports about ten pairs of twins from his sire, but this is the first set of triplets.

DECLINE IN DRUG PRICES
It will be good news to many people to know that the present high prices of drugs is on the decline. It is reported that the increased American activity of the manufacture of these products and a reduction in freight rates is the cause. Camphor, oxalic acid, castor oil, copper sulphate, opium, silver nitrate, tartaric acid and pepper are among the common products which have come down in price. Carbolic acid is now being successfully manufactured in this country and as the amount of home product increases the cost becomes lower. The cost of mercury has fallen from $3.50 a pound to $1.50.

TWO AUTOS COLLIDE
Two Rhinelander cars, going in opposite directions, collided at a sharp turn on the Rhinelander-Eagle River road yesterday. A short distance from Cochran Lake. The road at this place, like a great many others, is full of sharp turns where the brush grows to the edge of the road, permitting of no chance of seeing the car coming from the opposite direction until too late. Both cars were badly damaged, but were able to limp to nearby garages.—Vilas County News.

THE NEW NORTH.

The New North Printing Co.
Entered at the Postoffice at Rhinelander, Wis., as Second Class Mail Matter
AUGUST 3, 1916

"For the cause that lacks assistance;
For the wrong that needs resistance;
For the future in the distance
And the good that we can do."

WE can not extend credit to candidates. If you wish your notice to continue in the paper call and settle.
ALL pigs grunt—and some men too.

GREAT men are often great in the eyes of everyone but those who know them best.

CUT the weeds, mow the grass and push the garden along. The three speak well for the man and the town.

STILL the candidates come forth for the various county offices. The flood will soon have to cease as filing nomination papers closes Saturday.

No better place in the world than a city council to find out at close range whether a man follows or leads. There are few leaders, but many followers.

EVERYTHING points to the fact that Senator Stevens will have no opposition at the primary. This is a high compliment to a man who is a candidate for renomination and reelection.

YOU never need to fear that the fellow who pays a large tax will not be at the board of review if the assessor has not treated him fairly. But the small taxpayer is the one who suffers from lack of knowledge. This is generally well understood.

Ira Smith, chairman of the county board of Oneida county, is a candidate for assemblyman for this assembly district. His political opponents say he is honest, upright and straightforward. What more do you want said of your assemblyman? Vote for him September 5th.

IT is a regrettable fact that some councilmen entirely forget the interests of the city in their jealousy of rivals. Such men should be left at home when their narrow vision is found out. They are not altogether to blame in many cases, perhaps the people are not at home in the upper story.

MALCOLM G. Jeffries, whom the old gang have chosen to defeat Senator LaFollette, September 5th, is another of the Philipp type. He wishes to get into the U. S. Senate to work against the masses and for the classes. Do you want this machine made tool of big business as your representative or Senator LaFollette who always gives his best energies to the aid of the masses? You can decide this by your vote September 5th.

WILLIAM Hatten, a republican candidate for governor, has been a most successful business man and at the same time he gave much time and energy to progressive laws during his long service as state senator. His hand is seen in all the early laws pertaining to primary election, the railroad commission and the tax commission. Do you wish this constructive statesman for governor or a babbling demagogue like Philipp?

ANY man who will take the trouble to find out will learn that many of the state bills were not paid before the first of July, so the financial showing would appear better but even then a large increase in state expenses under Philipp's administration appears over those of his predecessors. Mr. Philipp has violated his every pledge over his platform speeches of two years ago. He has increased expenses, he has increased the number of office holders, he has increased commissions, but he has put out competent officials wherever he could to get the books of big business installed. Do the masses wish this type of man for governor again?

BOOSTING RHINELANDER

THE citizens of every town have it within their power to make or mar their own municipal name. It will be good or bad, just as they choose to make it.

We, of Rhinelander, are no exceptions to the rule, and the citizens who loves his own home will always bear it in mind.

There are many good points in favor of Rhinelander, and when the stranger comes to our midst we should not fail to impress these facts upon his mind.

We should take him in hand, exhibit the city as you would a blooded horse, let him understand that he is among a fair minded, energetic and generous hearted people, and when he goes to other climes he will speak as he has been spoken to.

This is the way reputations are made.

But there is another side, and it is there that mischief is too often done.

The stranger enters our door and we immediately begin to complain of the community and of the people. Nothing just suits us. Nothing is as it should be. Everything is wrong and the town is on the way to the dogs.

And again the stranger speaks as he sees and hears.

That is the way reputations are destroyed.

Which is it to be with us?

THE CITY WATER

ONE of the important topics discussed at the council meeting Tuesday evening was the city water. A blood-sucker about two inches long and about three-eighths inches in diameter was displayed as a relic which had recently been removed at a home drinking faucet. This brought forth various remarks and discussions.

The city will have an expert here to investigate conditions and decide what seems best to do to give the city good drinking water. All agreed that nothing should be left undone to accomplish this end.

An ordinance was introduced and passed for first publication to regulate and collect garbage during the summer months. This was recommended by City Health Commissioner Richards. We believe this should finally become an ordinance. Practically all cities of this size have a garbage ordinance.

Mayor Clark introduced another ordinance to regulate dance halls. This too is needed if we wish to preserve the sobriety of our boys and the purity of our girls. Health and morality should be looked after.

The saloon license granted caused much sharp debate. Some councilmen declaring the limit in number had been reached, others equally insistent that three saloons licensed illegally do not constitute licenses. On a final vote nearly all councilmen voted to grant the license.

A STEP BACKWARD

AGAIN Tuesday evening a battle royal was fought in the regular monthly council meeting to decide whether the assessment roll should be printed in one of the city papers after the assessor, has completed the list before it is taken up by the board of review. Again Andrew Danielson of the fourth ward led the fight not to let the masses know their own assessment and their neighbors at a glance, so they will now have to lose a day of valuable time to find out if they wish to go before the board of review and get the assessment changed if there is not a fair equalization. Mr. Danielson not only worked his hardest at the meeting, but he spent time during the day seeing the individual councilmen in behalf of his efforts. Although this active member had a letter purporting to come from the state tax commission saying they knew of no town that prints the list, two telegrams and a printed list were presented forthwith to prove the falsity of this statement.

A final vote stood six to five not to have the list printed. The time is coming when a public official will know it is his political death to keep public matters away from the people. Daylight and sunshine kill microbes. You need not fear dishonesty in public affairs when the public is made aware of public acts.

DIM YOUR LIGHTS

Automobilists, who, while driving at night fail to dim their lights when passing oncoming cars, are making driving in the city and on the outlying country roads extremely hazardous both to themselves and to other motorists. It is not an exaggeration to say that nine out of every ten drivers start out for an evening's drive with their lights going full force and that they seldom dim them. Cars going in opposite directions dash past one another at high speed, their lights throwing such a blinding glare that the drivers are unable to see where they are going. Collisions occur, cars are ditched and people are hurt—all because the average driver will not take the trouble to reduce the power of his lights when "safely first" requires.

With night driving becoming more and more popular, and with automobile traffic on both city streets and country roads increasing by leaps and bounds, every driver is confronted with the necessity for taking every precaution to make motoring as safe as possible. Rules of the road must be rigidly observed, speed limits must not be violated, any, in addition, headlights must be dimmed, especially when driving on country roads. This one precaution will do more to make night driving safe than any other one thing that a driver can do.—Milwaukee Journal.

ONE BIRD AT A TIME

SOME people start life by trying to kill two birds with one stone and go down to their graves without having bagged either one.

It is a fatal mistake that is often made.

The young man begins his career and is naturally anxious to get ahead.

There are two ways that are commonly used to accomplish this end. The one is to do one thing at a time and do it well. The man if at times slowly, but in the end who does this advances steadily, he attains the goal he seeks. Patience and energy and faithfulness are rewarded by success. The other is impatient and wants to go forward by leaps and bounds. He wants to kill two birds with one stone. Sometimes he wants to bag a dozen at one throw. As a result his objects are confused, his aim is too quick and careless, and he scores more misses than hits.

This is unsatisfactory to the employer and in time such a man generally finds himself looking for another job.

The wise employer is an excellent judge of men. It is a part of his business to be such, and it is because of his ability to gauge the capacity of his men that he succeeds in life.

He wants no drones, and the two-bird man does not appeal to him. He wants faithfulness, efficiency, steadiness, and that can only be secured by selecting the man who does one thing at a time and does it well.

It is a lesson every young man should learn on the threshold of life.—Exchange.

WHITE ON SEN. LAFOLLETTE

THE following editorial on Senator LaFollette appears in the issue of July 19 of the Emporia Gazette. The editorial was written by the owner of that paper, William Allen White, one of the leading progressives of the country. The editorial follows:

"The election of a president is no more distinctly a national matter than the reelection of Senator Robert M. LaFollette in Wisconsin. For no public official in the White House, on the supreme bench or in Congress in a generation has been more truly and worthily a national public servant than Senator LaFollette. No section, no class, no state, no cult or creed or even party has been able to win his support as a United States senator, away from a broad, courageous, intelligent conception of the duty to this whole nation. His record vote is a guide in the Senate to the brave, wise statesmanlike course in every crisis. Robert LaFollette is, by odds, the biggest man in the United States Senate. He has seen more of his demands met, more of his ideals realized, more of his plans mature into reality than any other senator who has been in public life in this generation.

Moreover, he has seen these demands met, ideals realized and plans mature, not by sitting idly by and hoping; but by fighting with all the ardor of a crusader and all the intelligence of a trained political general. With a record of political victories his career has been and not once has chance favored him. Every fight has been won upon its merits after a fierce contest. He has hit the enemy line at its strongest point, and has gone through. So he is battle scarred and weighed with enemies. But his enemies are his best recommendation. His scalps are his laurels.

For not once has he ever lined up with special privilege. Always has he seen fighting for more equitable economic conditions for the people; always has he stood for broader and more democratic control of this government. The aristocracy of organized aggrandized wealth and of crafty political plutocracy knows Senator LaFollette for its uncompromising foe. It never sleeps. It is after him now. His fall will mean a triumph of money and privilege in America.

Of course it will not fight fair—this secret power that stalks in every state seeking to sweep brave clean men from politics. Senator LaFollette will have to meet lies; he will have to fight against half truths twisted into vicious falsehoods. He will have to stand against malice posing as patriotism, and he will have to combat not merely open bribery, but corruption masking as state pride and national honor.

Yet he will win. The good sense and good judgment of the people of Wisconsin has been too often tried to admit of a doubt. And when he wins—what a victory it will be—not merely for Wisconsin but for America!

INFANTILE PARALYSIS

OWING to the existence of infantile paralysis in Wausau the community picnic, which was to have been held there a few days ago, was postponed. Five cases of the dread disease are reported in that city. The plague has also appeared in Green Bay and Clintonville. One death has occurred in the latter city. Infantile paralysis is regarded as highly contagious and parents are urged to exercise precaution in guarding their children against the disease.

The Pennsylvania commissioner of health has disseminated the following advice to parents: "You must keep the children away from insect life, such as flies, mosquitoes, fleas, bed bugs, ticks, ants, lice, etc. You should see that all rats and mice around the buildings are killed. Pet cats and dogs should be washed with a two per cent carbolic solution. Everything should be kept clean about the home, including the children.

Children should be fed well but not indulged in large quantities of water, ice cream or other frozen dishes on a full stomach, as that will often cause acute indigestion and render them susceptible to other diseases. In other words, the digestion should be guarded carefully.

Children should have plenty of sleep. They should not associate with other children that are sick. Their homes should be well ventilated, but screened. All foodstuffs should be protected.

Children's mouths should be rinsed out and their throats gargled with Dobell's solution after each meal. If the children are too young to rinse or gargle, wash the mouth with a piece of fabric dipped in Dobell's solution. Children must be kept out of crowded places. They should not be permitted to sit on the damp ground nor have their bodies chilled, day or night. They should not bathe in cold water.

THE lad who sticks to the farm in youth will find the dollars clinging to him in old age.

WHEN a fellow sits around, does nothing, and criticizes everything and everybody, he makes himself the greatest object of all criticism. Speak the good word instead.

SPEAK gently of the one who speaks ill of you and the world will regard you as a gentleman and him not at all. You win.

THERE's a lot of good sound horse sense in this town, but we'd like to see it galloping around at a livelier rate.

"GETTING there" is a commendable trait in any man but the road to be traveled should be scrutinized with a careful eye.

A FALSE PROPHECY

"JUDGED by the record, Governor Philipp stands before the people of the state as a false prophet, and one whose political word has gone to protest," said Attorney General Walter C. Owen in an address to progressive republicans at Black River Falls this afternoon. Mr. Owen said that two years ago Governor Philipp made his campaign for Governor on a proposal to make radical changes in the state government. Mr. Owen said that Philipp made a violent attack two years ago upon progressive government; that Philipp referred to the "Wisconsin Idea" as bad political policy; that the Governor's two principal charges against the progressive policies were, first, that they provided too much interference on the part of the state with private affairs; second, that the number of commissions and the methods of enforcing the law resulted in high taxes.

"Mr. Philipp's utterances before election," said Mr. Owen, justified the belief that if he were elected Governor there would be fewer commissions, less inspection, a general curtailment of state activities, and lower taxes.

A review of his administration and an analysis of public records made during that administration is the only evidence necessary to vindicate every piece of legislation that was ever placed upon the statute books of this state by the progressive republican party. Notwithstanding the fact that he came into power in control of both houses of the legislature, progressive laws placed upon the statute books of this state remained undisturbed; not a single commission has been abolished; not a single state activity has been discontinued; not a single inspection service originated by progressive laws has been dispensed with—all this in the face of the fact that immediately upon the assembling of the last legislature a committee was appointed and an attorney was hired to dissect and analyze the various departments of state government with a view of dispensing with the needless commissions. They prosecuted their labors all winter long, and while this committee made no report to the legislature of its findings or conclusions, the fact that they did not offer any legislation repealing progressive laws or abolishing state agencies established by progressive legislation fully justifies the conclusion that after this investigation they became convinced that there were no useless state agencies and that there were no bad progressive laws upon the statute books. More than this, in a public address before the Saturday lunch club, in the city of Madison, about three months after the legislature convened, Senator Whitman, a member of this investigating committee, concededly as spokesman for the administration, gave public assurances that not a single state activity would be abolished. What did this mean? It meant that notwithstanding the severe criticism of progressive government during the primary campaign, an investigation into the workings and affairs of the state government by this administration revealed no state activity, no state service, no established commission that could profitably or wisely be dispensed with. How could there possibly be a stronger vindication of progressive laws and policies? An administration coming into power as the result of a campaign in the severest criticism of existing policies, pledged to a repeal of many so-called foolish and progressive laws, pledged to the abolishment of all useless commissions, after the most complete investigation into state affairs, finds no laws that should be repealed, no state activities that should be dispensed with and no commission that should be abolished.

"In this campaign Governor Philipp cannot condemn commissions; he cannot criticize state inspection; he cannot find fault with the so-called commission form of government. Those laws and that form of government now carry the seal of his implied, if not expressed, approval."

THE hen pecked husband might well be termed a peace at any price man.

My Lady's Leisure.

We are caught between an old tradition of married life, which insists that a woman's time is fully occupied, and the new facts of married life, which belie the tradition. If we could forget the tradition and look at the facts, our whole attitude would change. As it is, this large margin of time, continually and increasingly ours, is, as it were, theoretically nonexistent. It has not yet received official recognition. Therefore, being treated as something contingent and accidental instead of something expected and calculable, it has no dignity, no coherence in its uses. It is like the reading done in a doctor's office while we wait. We are like children who receive frequent but unpredictable gifts of pocket-money, yet are given no stated allowance. The money is spent as it comes—casually, without special plan. It is the rare child who will make such accidental fortune serve any large ends. So it has been with women's time. Having no theoretic leisure and much actual leisure, they have filled it with whatever chances to importune most insistently.—Elizabeth Woodbridge in Atlantic.

The Hole in the Pocket.

The most dangerous hole in any man's pocket is always the one at the top.—London Mail.

Beginning of the Germ Theory.
Agostino Bassi, a country doctor in the north of Italy, early in the last century was the starter of the germ theory of disease. At that time a peculiar disease was killing the silkworms, bringing ruin to the whole country of Italy. Bassi, by the microscope, discovered the germ which is the cause of the disease. The germ later was named Bottritis bassiana. Bassi believed and stated that human diseases were also caused by germs. Bassi's work was sneered at and scoffed by his fellow men and physicians, and he failed to make a lasting impression, thereby losing great glory for Italy.

Founded Great Society.
M. Dumas, the founder of the Red Cross, bestowed his entire fortune on various charities, and subsequently received a pension from the empress of Russia. He, no doubt, had little idea of the far-reaching effect that his suggestion would bring about, for there is no section of the world that has not been reached in some way or other by this great international charitable organization, and millions of dollars have been spent for relief work.

PERSEVERANCE.

Genius is only the power of making continuous efforts. The line between failure and success is so fine that we scarcely know when we pass it, so fine that we are often on the line and do not know it. How many a man has thrown up his hands at a time when a little more effort, a little more patience, would have achieved success! As the tide goes clear out, so it comes in.—Royerfort's Sayings.

Antiquity of Earrings.
The very earliest mention of earrings is to be found in the book of Genesis. Jacob, it will be remembered, on reaching Bethel buried certain strange idols, among them some earrings belonging to his family. Doubtless these ornaments were regarded purely in a prophylactic light as amulets or talismans, such being still their principal office in the east today. That they are of eastern origin is certain, and among Egyptians, with the exception of Greeks and Hebrews, it has always been the custom for both sexes to wear them, while frequently only one ear was adorned. Among other races, however, earrings were always worn in pairs and by the women only.

What The County Folks Are Doing

MINOCQUA

(Minocqua Times)

The fever has struck Minocqua. Not the fever that requires the services of a physician but the kind that gets every man whether he be a business man, a professional man or a common laborer of any town which has awakened to its future. It is the sought for fever of progress.

That this fever is now raging unchecked within our town's limits is evidenced by the fact that a group of our citizens have guaranteed a sum large enough to insure a Chautauqua for Minocqua during the season of 1917. The idea was taken up by the members of the Association but among the signers of the contract are many public spirited citizens who are not members of that organization. This is conclusive evidence that all of Minocqua has caught the progressive idea.

It is talked around on the streets that citizens of the town are to promote a barbecue to be held on August 26th. The idea is to have a general program on that day including speeches by several men of note. This plan was followed six years ago. Some of the best speakers of both Democratic and Republican parties were here. This proved very popular far and wide to feast both ears and stomachs on those things which appeal to them.

The Northern this year is not only enjoying a season of publicity but it is also enjoying a season of steady patronage. The resort which has had a good crowd of guests ever since the season opened is now about full. There are now seventy-six guests registered with enough coming before the first of August to bring the number up to about a hundred.
